New Teachers Bring Excitement to PJH

We have two new teachers in the building! Miss Davis is our new 5th and 6th grade reading teacher. She got her teaching degree from FHSU. When she was a kid, her dream job was to be a teacher. She is looking most forward to coaching volleyball this year. Mrs. Umbarger teaches 5th and 6th grade special education, and she also got her degree from FHSU. Her dream as a kid was also to become a teacher! She is most looking forward to working in her new position as a special education teacher. Welcome to PJH, ladies!

Howdy, New Paras!

We also have two new paraeducators to help out our students this year, Haleigh Gardner and Peggy Hubbard. Haleigh's dream job as a kid was to be a writer. She is looking forward to seeing how far the students go, and her favorite class to help in is study skills. Peggy wanted to be a CNA when she

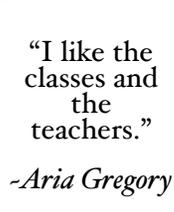

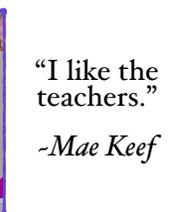

Students and Staff Dive Into New School Year

Most of us were excited to get back to school this year. On the first day, we saw new teachers and paras. We also noticed new flooring in a couple of classrooms, new water bottle fillers, and all of the other hard work that Mr. Iman and Mr. Miller did over the summer. Thanks, guys! Let's have a great year, everyone!

5th Graders Highlight Benefits of Middle School

We have a fresh batch of cute little fifth graders in the building. We asked them what they like about middle school so far.
