PJH Students Share Favorite Scary Movies

Tonight is Halloween night. Be safe out there, kids! We asked some of our students to reveal their favorite Halloween movie. They chose some classics!

Gower Wins Contest

On Monday, 8th grader Peyton Gower was awarded a cool bike and a helmet for the poster he created for KDOT's "Put the Brakes on Fatalities" poster contest. Good work, Peyton!

Be Careful Online

Last Thursday morning, all classes went to Huck Boyd for Jonathan McKee's presentation about social media awareness. His main message was to be careful, put your phone down, and interact with each other!

Drill Brings School and Community Together

On Tuesday, PJH participated in a mock emergency drill with local law enforcement and medical professionals. Some of our students had "injuries," got put on stretchers, and were taken to the hospital. At the hospital, they were put in sections based on their symptoms and injuries and checked by the doctors. Some classrooms were evacuated to Zion Lutheran Church, and others stayed locked down in their classrooms.
